Prue visits Salamander

We had a very special guest visitor on Friday 10 February - chef, restaurateur and presenter of the Great British Bake Off - Dame Prue Leith. She called in with her husband John prior to her one person show at the Lighthouse in Poole.

Prue loved the shop and commented “What a lovely shop. Full of tempting, if not irresistible, stuff for a cook. All great quality too. And at reasonable prices.” Prue is part way through her 30 date tour culminating at the London Palladium on 6 April. David commented, “At 82 Prue certainly is a role model to us all. We really enjoyed her show and hearing everything about her early days running a catering business in London, her famous restaurant and cookery school and of course stories about working on Bake Off.”
